Bay-Waveland School District retains accreditation status after MDE investigation

BY CASSANDRA FAVRE STAFF WRITER

The Bay-Waveland School District received word on Jan. 30 from the Mississippi Department of Education that MDE was "withdrawing its recommendation to downgrade the accreditation of the BWSL's accreditation status from accredited to probation."

Casey Favre The BWSL was made aware of the recommendation in early December 2017.

The final report comes after the MDE's investigative audit into the district last year and in particular school board member Casey Favre. A preliminary report of an investigative audit dated Dec. 4 from MDE to Superintendent Vikki Landry and BWSL School Board President Mike Bell – provided by BWSL board attorney Ronnie Artigues – stated that MDE found the district in violation of "Process Standards 1 and 1.1.; a board member is acting individually and outside of the role prescribed by law by giving directives to district staff members." According to Standard 1, "the local school board's responsibilities shall pertain to matters of setting policy and shall not interfere in the day-to-day operations of the school district that include, but are not limited to, such duties as those relating to personnel and management decisions." 1.1 states that "the school board assigns all executive and administrative duties to the superintendent." The audit includes an evaluation of accreditation standards and accountability and is based on data collected from interviews with

HMS student brought gun to school in January

Parents upset matter wasn't made public

BY GEOFF BELCHER News Editor

Sheriff Ricky Adam on Thursday confirmed rumors that a Hancock Middle School student brought a gun to school last month.

Adam told reporters Thursday that an eighth-grade student had brought an inoperable .22 pistol to Hancock Middle School on Jan. 4, but said no students were in danger from it because it did not have a trigger mechanism.

"The child may as well have brought a hammer to school," Adam said.

The incident became a matter of controversy this week because the Hancock County School District did not publicize it at the time that it happened. The matter only became public on Wednesday after an outraged parent posted it on social media.

Adam said he could not comment on why the school district did not publicize the problem.

However, he said, the student "was detained and brought to youth court and it's being handled there," Adam said.

Hancock Chief Deputy Don Bass said the matter was being handled under code 37-11-18: Expulsion of student possessing

About 21 months ago, Chris of Oklahoma decided he and his dog Dirty Harry would do something "inspiring" for Veterans Day.

"We walked from Oklahoma City, Oklahoma to Venice Beach, California," Chris said.

On Thursday, Chris stopped in Waveland on his way to New Orleans, where he met local businessman Marvin Lacoste.

"I was leaving Bay St. Louis and got to Waveland when I saw him and his dog," Lacoste said. "I had no clue what his purpose was."

Lacoste said he bought Chris a meal and some dog food for Dirty Harry and stopped to talk to him.

In addition to Dirty Harry,

Chris walks with a wagon adorned with an American flag and a flag with the number 16 on it.

Chris said one of the reasons he walks to raise awareness about the military is to honor the 16 servicemen who lost their lives last July in a plane crash in Itta Bena, Mississippi.

"That's the story behind the

The Bay-Waveland School District Board of Trustees on Thursday heard an update from Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission CEO Bill Cork.

Cork gave an overview of the port's financial summary, which includes a total budget of $45.6 million for 2018. The increase from last year's $21.8 million is due to capital investments, he said.

Cork added that the Port and Harbor Commission receives no taxpayer subsidies.

This year's capital projects include the dredging of the industrial canal at Port Bienville, improvements to the Port Bienville railroad and two hangars at Stennis International Airport.

Cork also referenced a 2016 study of 5,074 Stennis Space Center badges. Of that number, 1,548 live in Louisiana; 1190 in Pearl River County; 999 in Harrison County; 974 in Hancock County and 111 in Jackson County.

OLA STUDENTS PLACE AMONG THE TOP 3 IN THE GAIL KEENAN ART EXHIBIT

SEA COAST ECHO
Five art students from Our Lady Academy (OLA) were selected to enter in the juried art exhibition at the Gail Keenan Art Center at Coast Episcopal School. The exhibition showcased nominated student works from South Mississippi high schools. Sophomore, SAVANNAH TEMPLETON, won 1st Place overall and Senior, ANNA DENETTE, captured 3rd Place overall. Students ISABELLE GELPI and CASSIDY KETCHUM received Honorable Mentions. OLA's visual arts teacher, KARLI CORR, commented that she was "very excited for these art students to be recognized. Their talent and hard work is inspiring to me as a teacher."

Corr focuses on teaching artistic behavior in her classroom. When creating art, the students are given as many choices as possible to not only grow their creativity, but to help them learn how to become artists. The colorful art room at OLA is filled with artworks on the floor and ceiling from Corr's previous students. Corr added,

"I make my classroom environment inviting and exciting, so that the students can grow to their full creative potential without fear."

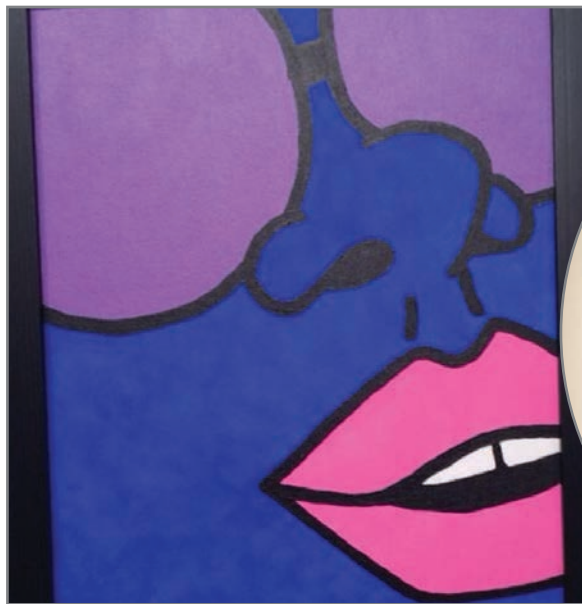

The OLA students' work, along with the works from other schools in South Mississippi, will be exhibited at the Gail Keenan Art Center until February 22, 2018.

SAVANNAH TEMPLETON WON FIRST PLACE OVERALL.

ANNA DENETTE WON THIRD PLACE OVERALL.

BWSD staff, school board members, former BWSD staff and documentation and reports submitted to MDE, the letter states.

MDE's findings include:

- The day after former superintendent Rebecca Ladner resigned, a board member, without board authorization, went to the district office at 7 a.m. to meet with the Department of Human Resources to post announcement for an interim superintendent.
- During the visit, the board member gave directions to other staff members.

- When the board named Landry superintendent, the board member "refused to participate in any of the hearings, deliberations or rulings."

- The board member gives "directives to the now superintendent via email on a regular basis."

- The board member, who is employed at a local hospital, "serves as trustee of the school district and oversees the district's nursing staff."

- The board member and an employee suing the district are exchanging emails.

- The board member gave the board a "climate survey administered to faculty and staff and submitted "several district policy revisions based on the survey results without input from any other board member."

Artigues said Thursday that once the board received the notice of findings, the board was allowed to submit a response on behalf of the district.

In the district's response dated Jan. 22 – also provided by Artigues – the district responded to each of the findings and provided evidence gathered from the board's minutes, input from Favre, other board members and Landry.

The response letter asked that the recommendation to place the district on probation be denied and that "none of the other members of the board of trustees, nor the superintendent provided any information that either confirms or contradicts MDE's findings."

In 2016, the BWSD board of trustees included Favre, Bell, Maurice Singleton, Mark Kidd and Joan Thomas.

The district's response to finding one referenced the board's minutes from Sept. 12, 2016, during which the board voted unanimously to "authorize the board chair (Favre) in collaboration with the human resources department to post the position of interim superintendent of education."

The response further states that "Favre was acting in his capacity as board president, with authorization from and direction by the full board."

In response to the second finding that Favre gave directives to staff, the response referenced the district's response to the first finding and said that Favre acted in his role as board president with authorization from the board.

The district's response to finding three – that Favre refused to participate in deliberations to name Landry as superintendent – states that "Favre was opposed to the hiring of the current superintendent for that position, made that opposition and the reasons for his opposition known to the other board members during all deliberations and discussion of the matter, and even voted against the hiring of the current superintendent. The board voted in open session on this matter. Mr. Favre stated the reason for his 'no' vote on the record, publicly, and voted in opposition to the motion openly." This is reflected on the board's minutes, the response states.

In response to finding four, the district's response states that Favre denies giving "improper directives" to Landry via email. The emails exchanged were made by Favre in his role as board president for "proper functioning of the board/superintendent interaction and for preparation of agenda items necessary for board meetings." During his investigation, Artigues requested emails from the superintendent and states in the response that "the superintendent has responded that she does not have any emails from trustee Favre or any other board member that are improper directives that corroborate MDE's findings."

The district's response to finding five stated that Favre is an employee of Hancock Medical Center as a nurse practitioner, is not a member of the board of directors, is not a director of nurses and does not work at any of the district's campuses.

District nurses are hospital employees, the response states, and the district contracts their services from the HMC, the response states.

"Mr. Favre does not hire, fire, manage, oversee nor direct the nurses that are assigned to the district by the hospital," the response states. "In fact, the hospital has established a reporting structure for nurses assigned to the district to ensure that Mr. Favre does not supervise, engage or direct the nurses."

MDE's finding six referenced that emails were being exchanged between Favre an employee suing the district. According to the district's response, "the district is aware of one employee that was suing the district during any time related to MDE's audit or the time period during which its report is based." The response also states that the district is "not aware" of emails sent by Favre – who denied the claim – to the former employee during litigation.

"The district is aware of inappropriate emails that the former employee sent to the members of the board of trustees during litigation, but there were no responses to her emails from board members for which the district is aware," the response states.

According to finding seven, Favre "submitted several district policy revisions based upon the survey results without any input from any other board member."

The response states that the board requested a "climate survey" from the contractor and that Favre – acting in capacity as board president – received the survey and shared the results with the board and board attorney.

The response includes minutes from the Aug. 8 and Sept. 12 school board meetings where the board voted unanimously both times to approve policy changes of staff dress code, cell phone use, student discipline policies and fiscal policies.

"All policies that are the focus of MDE's audit were properly reviewed, considered and approved by the full board of trustees," the district's response states. "In summation, the district has investigated the findings of MDE and respectfully submits that they are without merit and that the district should not be placed on probation. The other members of the board of trustees to whom these findings do not appear to be addressed have no information or documentation to dispute or confirm the findings and have deferred response to trustee Favre. Trustee Favre, the board member to whom the findings are directed, has provided information to show that the findings are not factually correct and are not meritorious."

On Jan. 30, MDE issued its response – also provided by Artigues – where MDE withdrew its recommendation for probation.

However, Office of Accreditation Executive Director Jo Ann Malone said in the letter that MDE "still has concerns regarding the allegations made that prompted the investigative audit" because the superintendent and other board members did not provide information in the district's response that "confirms or contradicts MDE's findings."

"Therefore, the MDE will continue to monitor the actions of the board member(s) of the district throughout the 2017-2018 school year or until such time the Office of Accreditation determines the district is fully compliant with all process standards of the Mississippi Public Schools Accountability Standards, 2017," Malone said in the response.

Bell –BWSD Board of Trustees president – on Wednesday deferred all comment to Artigues.

Favre said Thursday that he was made aware of the seven findings identified during the audit by MDE on Dec. 5, 2017.

"After providing supporting documentation, I am pleased to learn that MDE recognized that these findings were completely unsubstantiated and their recommendation to take action against the district was withdrawn, as it had no merit," Favre said. "I would imagine any government body acting in a transparent manner would welcome oversight from a state agency, and I do believe that MDE's decision to withdraw their recommendation legitimizes their due process. It saddens me that anyone would speak adversely of our school district without the proper facts, placing our accreditation status in jeopardy for no reason."

Hancock Youth Leadership Academy

SEA COAST ECHO
The Hancock Youth Leadership Academy (HYLA) High School Program kicked off the New Year with a new class of young leaders. The 2018 HYLA High School Class is comprised of 29 eleventh graders from Hancock County who represent all four area high schools (Bay High School, Hancock High School, Our Lady Academy, and St. Stanislaus). They will participate in a rigorous year long program which is based on building college readiness, appreciation of community assets, and developing leadership potential.

Our first session was held on January 24th at the Leo Seal Community Center. Students participated in "ice-breaker" activities and explored the different characteristics of being a good leader. Gabe Fertitta, Head Coach at Catholic High, gave an enlightening presentation on what it takes to be successful. Members of the 2017 HYLA High School class joined the new group for lunch to help them learn how to get the most out of the program.

Joy Saucier from Mississippi Power met with the students and conducted a personal profile (DISC) on each student's individual leadership style. Students participated in various activities which helped them to learn how to better relate to others in the group.

The Hancock Youth Leadership Academy is the only county-wide youth leadership program in Hancock County and is a program of the Hancock Resource Center. HYLA is funded by sponsorships and donations from the local community. REFLECTIONS ON LIFE

by Fr. Jerome Ledoux, SVD

Doing Lenten penance can be very relative

There was a time from my late teens on that I dreaded lent and all it entailed. A strong, active young person who burned calories at a furious rate, especially from outside work, sports and other rough activities, the last thing on my mind was small portions of foods and drinks that supplied little fire to my body engine and barely any staying power to one who would walk away from a 2-hour baseball workout still hungering for more swings at the ball, and saddened to be leaving the field.

Thus, Mardi Gras, and later Lundi Gras as well, were not happy times for me, despite the outrageously joyous music of musicians like Henry Roeland “Roy” Byrd, better known as Professor Longhair. Whistling, freewheeling his way up and down the ivory with a primal rhythm and beat, the Professor belted out his 1959 rendition of “Go To the Mardi Gras” with the joy, passion and the very soul of the New Orleans Mardi Gras. They were ambiguous times for me, because Lent was sure to follow.

Ever-hungry, voracious youngster that I was, the old Lenten rules for fast and abstinence were complicated and burdensome. Imagine nowadays, except Sundays, having to fast every day of Lent plus the Ember Days (onetime 3 days of fast and abstinence at the beginning of the four seasons). A distant memory today, Ember Days are now completely optional. After Paenitemini, Pope Paul VI’s February 17, 1966 Apostolic Constitution, the fast consisted of one main meatless meal and two smaller meals whose quantity did not equal that of the main meal.

However, the fast before Paenitemini was much more severe, according to the 1945 edition of the Father Lasance Missal:

The Law of Abstinence forbids the use of flesh meat and the juice thereof (soup, etc.). Eggs, cheese, butter and seasonings of food are permitted.

The Law of Fasting forbids more than one full meal a day, but does not forbid a small amount of food in the morning and in the evening. (estimated by ounces)

All Catholics seven years old and over are obliged to abstain. All Catholics from the completion of their twenty-first to the beginning of their sixtieth year, unless lawfully excused, are bound to fast.

According to this formulation, I have exceeded the severity of the Lenten fast for 21 years and 9 months nonstop, since I became a total vegan on April 30, 1996. I have eaten no animal products at all since that date; that is, nothing that had a mother. Thus, no meats, no seafoods, no dairy. I have also stopped using the 5 bad whites: white flour, white rice, plus the worst three: salt, sugar and all animal fats.

Forgoing those contrabands became less and less a burden as the decades passed.

Notwithstanding, I do not like the season of Lent at

Wicker works to fix inequalities in National Guard benefits

New bill recognizes the expanded role of our National Guard and reserve forces

FROM THE SENATE

by Roger Wicker
U.S. SENATOR

The U.S. military could not do its job without the critical contributions of our citizen-warriors in the National Guard and Reserves. The demands on our military have increased substantially in the 17 years since the Sept. 11 attacks. Our Reserve Component has been ready and capable to accept its share of overseas deployments.

National Guard and Reserve forces are fully operational. They are no longer the “strategic reserve” of the Cold War era, on hold for mobilization in large-scale contingencies. And yet, these men and women are still not entitled to some of the benefits delivered to their active-duty counterparts on the exact same missions.

Closing the Gap Would Help Build a Stronger Guard and Reserves

I introduced new legislation titled the “National Guard and Reserves Benefit Parity Act” to eliminate remaining benefit inequalities. This bill, introduced on February 13, would address three important gaps that Congress has yet to resolve affecting Guardsmen and Reservists’ eligibility for early retirement, deployment pay, and protections against pay reductions when activated.

My bill has strong support from my colleagues, as well as from organizations like the National Guard Association of the United States and our military leadership. “This legislation strengthens our Guard and Reserves,” said

Maj. Gen. Janson D. Boyles, the Adjutant General of Mississippi. “It also benefits our military families as their loved ones serve during increased operations both stateside and abroad.”

Pentagon Turns to Guardsmen and Reservists for Preplanned Missions

It is wrong to short-change our Guardsmen and Reservists for their service, especially when our country continues to ask more of them. In 2012, the defense authorization bill gave the Pentagon a new mobilization authority to deploy Guard and Reserve forces for missions usually performed by active-duty soldiers, such as peace-keeping in Kosovo and the Sinai Peninsula. In just the past four years, Guardsmen and Reservists have seen a 243 percent increase in activations for these types of missions. Thousands of Mississippians could be among those mobilized or deployed this year.

This expansion of the National Guard and Reserves’ role is a testament to the skills and capabilities of its members. These men and women are performing the same service as their active-duty counterparts. There is no reason why they should not also be earning points toward early retirement, qualifying for a high-deployment allowance, or – in the case of federal civilian employees – assured that their pay will not be reduced because of their mobilization.

MS Legislative weekly summary

With general House Bills out of the way, representatives began working on House Appropriations Bills, which will determine how much money is given to various state organizations.

The House was responsible for looking at the preliminary budgets of 51 state agencies, including the Departments of Transportation, Public Health, Medicaid and Public Safety.

Budgets included reverse repealers, a clause which ensures that a bill cannot become law before going to a conference committee for further revisions. With reverse repealers in place, most appropriations bills were voted on in a block to help speed up the process.

Among these was

by Representative Carolyn Crawford

House Bill 1592, the appropriations bill for the Mississippi Department of Education. During discussion for this bill, a conditional amendment was offered that would prevent MDE from receiving any money from the state budget unless the department removed its requirement for students to pass all end-of-course tests, commonly known as “exit exams.” The amendment passed the House by a voice vote.

The House Ways and Means committee also introduced several bills on the House floor this week.

Under House Bill 1550, recent college graduates could file for a tax deduction within one year of graduating from a four-year college or university. Those graduates would be entitled to this deduction for up to three consecutive years if they remain a resident and employee in the state of Mississippi, and an additional two years if they purchase property in the state for residential or commercial use.

Next week is the deadline for action on appropriations and revenue bills. After that, House committees will begin considering bills which passed through the Senate.

On Tuesday, the House recognized Tony Brown, Mississippi’s Gatorade Player of the Year in football. House Resolution 14 commended the senior running back from East Central High School in Jackson County for his accomplishments on the gridiron.

Several groups visited the Capitol this week, including medical students from the University of Mississippi Medical Center, the Mississippi Egg Marketing Board, the NAACP, Canopy Children’s Solution, the National Alliance of Mental Illness and the Women’s Foundation of Mississippi.

SEA COAST ECHO
Kiln, Miss. – Coast Electric President and CEO Ron Barnes was recently recognized as one of Mississippi’s 2018 Top CEOs by the Mississippi Business Journal. The Journal recognized leaders around the state who have demonstrated excellence among the top executives in their field. These CEOs have helped their companies achieve strong growth and success and have made a profound impact on their company and community.
Barnes was named President and CEO of Coast Electric in March 2017 after serving as Vice President of Marketing, Member Services and Public Relations for 21 years. In his first year leading the cooperative, Barnes has already demonstrated his ability to take Coast Electric to the next level and his desire to improve the quality of life for his fellow south Mississippians.

“We appreciate Ron and the excellent leadership that he brings to Coast Electric,” said Board President Gilbert Arceneaux. “This honor is well-deserved and we look forward to seeing what the future has in store for our members with Mr. Barnes at the helm.”

Wicker Bill Would Build on Recent Efforts to Address Benefit Disparities
Congress has already taken steps to provide our National Guardsmen and Reservists with the benefits they deserve. The most recent defense authorization bill and the “Forever GI Bill” extended health care to Guardsmen and Reservists before mobilization and during transitional periods. These bills also expanded educational assistance for those who joined the military after Sept. 11 and offered rehabilitation services to veterans with service-related disabilities.

If we want to continue recruiting the best men and women for our active-duty and reserve forces, we need to ensure that their service does not go unappreciated. Correcting benefit inequalities is important to recruitment, retention, national security, and the well-being of these citizen soldiers, who number more than 12,000 in our state. They have earned these benefits, putting life and limb on the line alongside their active-duty compatriots to defend our freedom.

Reflections

all, even though its strict fast and abstinence do not impact me at all. That attitude does not appear to be the logical outcome one would anticipate, since it makes no practical difference to a total vegan who has no skin in the game. Evidently, it is the atmosphere that I do not like, seeing folks all around me struggling to bear the fast and abstinence. Even for a vegan, a festive atmosphere is by far preferable and more desirable. Ironically, being a strict vegan is hardly any penance at all, for I have become so accustomed to being a vegan that I am enjoying the vegan way of life, even when surrounded by the mouthwatering sight and beguiling aroma of foods at banquets, family reunions, etc.

Which makes doing penance through fasting and abstinence a very relative thing, certainly dependent on how much stock one places in food and drink in general and on various foods and delicacies in particular. Delicious foods still smell wonderful and alluring, but the fire within me to desire and eat them is gone.
But beware! That does not leave me or anyone else off the hook. Somehow, some way, all of us must do penance. Unfortunately, it is not an act of penance to do something that you enjoy, even if it is something very good and Godly. This means that at times we must shop around to find words or actions truly a penance for us.

Pope Paul VI in Paenitemini “invites everyone to accompany the inner conversion of the Spirit with the voluntary exercise of external acts of penitence.” Together with fast and abstinence, the Pope called on us to do other acts of penance as well, especially going beyond fast and abstinence to doing positive things such as helping others and caring for the needy.
There is no dearth of potential penances that we can do both at home and away. The dirty and/or annoying little chores seem to never cease. Then there are the many items, especially exercise, we must maintain for our health and well-being.

PUBLIC NOTICE

WARD 2 TOWN HALL MEETING

Alderman Bobby Richardson and Mayor Mike Smith would like to invite everyone to attend a Town Hall Meeting on February 20, 2018, 7 p.m. at the Waveland Civic Center (Ground Zero Museum/Old Waveland School) 335 Coleman Avenue. If you have any questions, please call City Hall (228)467-4134 or email msmith@waveland-ms.gov or brichardson@waveland-ms.gov

The government’s business is your business.

And Mississippians count on their newspapers to keep apprised of public notice advertising.

Half of Mississippi adults recall reading or seeing public notice advertising in a local or state newspaper.

And almost half (46%) of adults who have seen public notice advertising prefer to receive them in a printed newspaper, much higher than any other source.

Most Mississippians (87%) say keeping the public informed through public notices and legal advertising is an important requirement for government agencies. And the preferred method of receiving these notices is in a printed newspaper along with their associated websites.

According to a 2013 Advertising and Media Use Survey*, legal ads in printed newspapers have a much higher credibility than other media.

Over 1.5 million Mississippians read their local newspaper. Whether in print, online or on the go, newspapers are the leading source of information for Mississippi.

There is power in print.

The Chevrolet was transported to Memorial Hospital with serious injuries, Elkins said. Both drivers were wearing seatbelts, he said.

The crash is still under investigation, Elkins said.

It was the second fatal crash in Hancock County this week.

At around 10 p.m. on Monday, John Banach, 71, of Gulfport, was killed in a crash in the northbound lane of Hwy. 607 near Hwy. 604.

Banach was apparently traveling south on Hwy. 607 in a gray 2013 Ford Fiesta, according to Elkins.

Then, "the Ford crossed the center line, entering the northbound lane and crashed head-on with a northbound brown 2008 Chevrolet Silverado driven by a 21-year-old white male of Slidell, La.," Elkins said.

Banach was pronounced dead at the scene from his injuries, Elkins said. The driver of the Silverado was transported to Memorial Hospital in Gulfport with moderate injuries, police said. Both drivers were wearing seatbelts at the time of the crash.

Chris said his father and grandfather served in the U.S. Navy and U.S. Army respectively.

"I'm trying to inspire people to be more patriotic and be thankful for what the veterans have done for us," Chris said. "They gave their lives for somebody else. I'm hoping people will see me like Marvin did and talk to me."

Marvin said he was impressed and expressed his appreciation to Chris.

"I'm an old Navy veteran and that what's inspired me," Lacoste said. "Plus, Dirty Harry melted my heart when I saw him."

Chris said he plans to stop at the WWII Museum in New Orleans before possibly venturing to Texas to visit the Audie Murphy/American Cotton Museum.

"Murphy was one of the most decorated soldiers in history," Chris said.

Chris said he has no plans to end his journey any time soon.

"People are very kind with their blessings and I fund my walk through charity," he said.

"We've got to do a better job at community development," Cork said. "That means our schools have to be performing at an optimal level to be attractive so people want to live here and put their kids in school here. Means we need to have housing available for all different kinds of incomes. When we can do things like that in community development, create a sense of place, that attractiveness, we'll start to see a shift. But until we do that, I'm St. Tammany Parish's best economic developer."

Cork also said that the commission is providing the funds for about 75 seniors from Bay High School to take the National Career and Readiness tests this year.

Cork said it is also a great test for those who don't plan to attend college and want a local job.

In other action:

- The board recognized several educators including Administrator of the Year Shirley Prendergast; Bay High School Teacher of the Year Benjamin Foreman; Bay-Waveland Middle School Teacher of the Year Christopher Munsch; North Bay Elementary Teacher of the Year Dana Brown; Waveland Elementary and District Teacher of the Year Stacey Ferguson and Crossroads Learning Center Teacher of the Year Gregory Prudhomme. The board also recognized the Bay High Steppers for earning the state's title of Small Varsity Kick Champions and placing third in small varsity jazz. The board also acknowledged the achievements of Bay High and Waveland Elementary's art programs. Superintendent Vikki Landry also recognized the board of trustees since Feb. 11 through 17 is School Board Member Recognition Week.

- The board voted four-to-one to approve Thursday's consent agenda. Board trustee Casey Favre cast the "no" vote. After the meeting, Favre said, that the board was approving the 2018-2019 personnel recommendations of two assistant superintendents – Cherie Labat and Kristen Ladner – "with no idea how much state funding will be cut."

- BWSD business

administrator Jon McCraw said that there is about $3.9 million in the construction budget. McCraw said the items the board can look at include, renovations at the high school, which the board has already approved; the addition of eight classrooms at Waveland Elementary; and drainage and renovations at the Early Education Center building in Waveland. The rough estimate from the architect for the work is about $6 million, McCraw said. Board attorney Ronnie Artigues told the board that the EEC building has been inspected and showed no signs of black mold. McCraw said the Department of Health wrote the EEC up for the drainage issues. McCraw said the district has "no commitment" to the EEC, but has discussed options with Hancock County Resource Agency Executive Director Lora Mederos about other options. McCraw suggested to the board that, with the addition of the eight classrooms at Waveland Elementary, the EEC could move into the old kindergarten classrooms.

- The next board meeting is schedule for March 12 at 5:30 p.m.

HYPE to present “Chasing the Dragon”

SEA COAST ECHO

The Hancock Community Coalition and HYPE (Hancock Youth for Positive Efforts) will host a viewing of the documentary Chasing the Dragon during a special event at the Hancock High School Performing Arts Center on Feb. 21, from 6 p.m. until 8 p.m. HYPE is a coalition of local students that addresses substance abuse and other social issues. It was formed in 2016. HCCC/HYPE is a partnership with Hancock Resource Center.

"Chasing the Dragon" is a 45-minute documentary that was produced by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency in 2016. The film focuses on opioid addiction and includes several first-hand accounts of opioid use and its consequences. DEA Director Chuck Rosenberg called the film "a wakeup call." "The numbers are appalling," Rosenberg said. "Tens of thousands of Americans die every year in drug-related deaths. More than half are from opioid or heroin overdoses. I hope this documentary serves as a wakeup call."

Local non-profit groups will provide additional information and resources in the auditorium lobby. There will be an afterword by Kathleen Van Buskirk, Assistant U.S. Attorney.

Hancock County Superintendent of Education Alan Dedeaux said the event will benefit both students and the public. "It is extremely important to educate the community about the dangers associated with opioid abuse," Dedeaux said. "It is going to take everyone working together to get this information out there."

"This is the most important thing you will do for your child this year" said Rhonda Rhodes. "It's important for parents to understand how easily this can happen to their family."

Pearlington man dies in head-on Hwy. 90 collision

BY GEOFF BELCHER
News Editor

The Mississippi Highway Patrol investigated a fatal crash in Hancock County that occurred on Highway 90 eastbound, near Port Bienville, at approximately 3:40 a.m. Friday, which claimed the life of a Pearlinton man.

Hancock County Coroner Jim Faulk said Friday that the man has been identified as David Rockwell, 61.

Rockwell was pronounced dead at the scene from injuries sustained in the crash and the driver of

Rocks claim 4th Class 4A title berth in last 5 year with 3-2 win over Pass Christian 2018 Class 4A South State Champions - the Saint Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws defeated the Pass Christian Pirates 3-2 on Wednesday evening to claim the Class 4A South State championship and a berth in the Class 4A state championship game against Amory High School today at 2pm at Brandon High School.

The area had four participants in the recent South State soccer championships held earlier this week. In each match, the prize on the line was a berth in the respective state championship game.

Of the four teams involved in the three games, one team stood out and advanced to the state finals this Saturday - Saint Stanislaus College.

In the other games, the Crescents of Our Lady Academy fell to Sacred Heart 3-2 in the third time the two teams have locked horns this season.

The Bay High Lady Tigers fell to the Lady Eagles of Florence 2-0 in the Class 4A girls South State title game. The Crescents end their season with a record of 9-7-4 while Bay High ends the year with a record of 12-8-3.

In the Class 4A boys South State championship game on Wednesday, the area was guaranteed a representative in the Class 4A state title tilt with SSC squaring off against Pass Christian. The two teams are very familiar with each other having played twice during the season as members of Division 7-4A.

The two teams battled early on in the game with Pass Christian (14-9) choosing to play long ball and attempt to get SSC bunched up while SSC (17-3-1) played their normal relentless pressure offense.

The game was a stalemate until Jansen Switzer of Pass Christian broke the tie with a goal with 18:35 left in the first half to give the Pirates a 1-0 lead.

However, exactly nine minutes later Max Matsenbaugh knotted the score with a rebound shot after the ball bounced off several players in front of the Pirate goal. With 9:35 remaining in the first half, the score was 1-1.

The two squads continued their gameplans until SSC got a fast break by Carter Landry who was pulled down from behind inside the box giving the Rocks a penalty kick with roughly 30 seconds on the clock.

Parker Slade caught the Pirate goalie going the opposite direction as he ripped the lower left corner of the net to give SSC a 2-1 advantage at intermission.

After the break, both squads continued their attack for the majority of the second half. With 6:35 remaining in the game, Jackson Thriffiley put a loose ball in the net off a corner kick by Charlie DeMetz that gave SSC a 3-1 advantage.

Switzer would add a goal for Pass Christian with 2:51 remaining to make the score 3-2; however, it would not change which team heads north to play for a title today.

The Rocks have played in 17 South State championship games, including Wednesday's game, and have won 13 of them. Consequently, the Rocks have played in 13 state finals in soccer winning eight titles (1995-96, 2003-04, 2010, and 2014-16).

SSC head coach Danny Patton commented, "The game was everything we thought it would be. When you play a team three times in a season, they get to know how you operate in situational play. They get to know your weaknesses and what your strengths are. The Pirates are under a new head coach this season and he has done a tremendous job with throughout the season. We have one more game. If we play our game and not let the opponent dictate how we play, we stand a good chance to be competitive each time out. We have one more to go so the job is not complete yet."

Division basketball tournaments yield state playoff participants

BY JOSEPH W. GEX, II
STAFF WRITER

The respective division tournaments in basketball are in full swing and several teams have qualified for the State playoffs.

The Division 8-2A tournament is being played in Collins and the Our Lady Academy Crescents lost their first round game earlier this week. The Crescents (2-19) dropped their game with St. Patrick 73-29.

Hancock is playing their division tournament at Harrison Central. The Hawks (4-22) dropped their game with Harrison Central 60-37.

Both the Crescents and the Hawks end their seasons with records of 2-19 and 4-22, respectively.

The Bay High Lady Tigers defeated the Lady Bulldogs of Vancleave in the first round of the Division 8-4A tournament 33-30 on Tuesday evening at Pass Christian. The victory put the Lady Tigers in the state playoffs. Kylan Kilpatrick led Bay High with 14 points.

On Thursday evening, the Lady Tigers met the top-seeded Pass Christian Lady Pirates but fell 54-27. Kilpatrick led Bay High with nine points followed by Katalynn McClain with eight points. The Lady Pirates were paced by Maliyah Bullard with 13 and Cayla Obillo had nine points.

The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws (13-16) entered the tourney as winners of three in a row and four if their last five; however, East Central had a different plan. The Hornets took advantage of a game where SSC couldn't get a ball to fall and stumbled 51-44.

SSC head coach Aaron Dunklin stated, "We did not shoot the ball well tonight and they did. We did not turn the ball over much but we just could not get the ball to fall."

Luke Ladner led SSC with 12 points followed by Jeremiah Reynoso with nine points. Gavin Tanner paced the Hornets with 22 points.

The Moss Point Tigers topped the Vancleave Bulldogs 48-46 in overtime on Tuesday. Moss Point was led by Keondre Booker with 19 points while Xavier Bass led Vancleave with 15 points.

On Thursday, Moss

Point took on Bay High boys and gave them everything they wanted. Moss Point led at halftime 22-16 But Bay High (18-10) outscored Moss Point 17-2 to take the lead and not look back.

Bay High head coach Randy McCrory stated, "We started slow but give Moss Point credit. They made some big shots that forced us into bad shot selection and empty possessions in the first half. We settled down late in the second period and started to play our brand of basketball."

The East Central girls and the Moss Point girls tangled on Thursday with Moss Point coming from behind to win 47-41.

Sarah Wells led East Central with 19 points while Robyn Lee led Moss Point with 16 points.

In the nightcap on Thursday, the Pass Christian Pirates defeated East Central 57-43. Joshua Lambert led Pass Christian with 11 points followed by Elijah Barnes and Tionne Frost with 10 points. East Central was led by Preston Walker with 14 points and Gavin Tanner with 12.

The awards for Division 8-4A were announced throughout the tournament. The All-Division 8-4A girl honorees are Maliyah Bullard (Pass Christian), Tori Williams (Pass Christian), Emory Benoit (Pass Christian), Denisha Dedeaux (Pass Christian), Brienna Miller (Moss Point), Celia Rodgers (Moss Point), Desiree Broadnax (Moss Point), Alexis Laughlin (Moss Point), Julia Clark (East Central), Madison Pearson (East Central), Taylor Jordan (Vancleave), Jalanta Bilbo (Vancleave) and Tiahni Powell (Bay).

The All-Division 8-4A honorees for the boys are Traylon Lewis (Bay), Toure Powell (Bay), Kyren Galloway (Bay), Montez Green (Pass Christian), Terre Johnson (Pass Christian), Andrew Moffett (Pass Christian), Keandre Booker (Moss Point), Cam Jones (Moss Point), Xavier Bass (Vancleave), Jeremiah Reynoso (SSC), Brandon Bordelon (SSC), Luke Ladner (SSC), and Terrell Hooks (East Central).

Six members of Bay High's new Powerlifting team are headed to South State after earning the top spots in their very first regional meets.

Five of the eight Lady Tiger Powerlifters will compete March 10 at the South State meet at South Pike. The team placed third overall in their first regional meet last month.

Rhea Lymuel took first place in her weight division. Karina Alarcon took second and Lizzie Weems, Layla Drumm and Dominique Cole captured third place. Also on the girls' team are Avery Lyons, Glenda Drumm and McKenna Lafontaine.

Bay High's Kyre Hodges-Campbello was a first place finisher at the boys' powerlifters regional meet Feb. 3 and he will head to South State on March 3. Hodges-Campbello, a senior this year, holds an impressive 435 lb. squat, 250 lb. bench, and a 505 lb. deadlift. The eight member boys' team earned sixth place at the regional meet held at South Pike High School. Team members also include Preston Farrell, Carson Sudduth, Kane Crawford, Tyler Farrell, Myles Veals, Daiton Bourgeois, and Josh Peters.

Head Coach of the Tiger Powerlifting teams, Josh Garcia, said Athletic Director Vernon Powell implemented the new sport at Bay High this year and he's grateful for the opportunity to coach and build the program from the ground up. Garcia is a Bay High graduate and a special education inclusion teacher. He graduated from the University of Southern Miss with a bachelor's degree is sport coaching as well as a master's degree in exercise science.

Coach Garcia has been extremely pleased with the teams' efforts in their first year. "To have eight kids on each team is a great number for year one," Garcia said. "The kids have done everything I've asked them to do and their hard work is paying off. They are beginning to see the fruits of their labor."

Garcia stressed the importance placed on building character and mental toughness in athletes. "Our motto is 'thrive.' Regardless of what the day has thrown at us, we make the choice to excel in our circumstances. We choose to thrive," he said.

THE KREWE OF OLYMPUS CELEBRATES MARDI GRAS

BY SECRETARY MARY ALICE SIERVELD

On Friday, January 16, 2018 the beautiful Goddess of Youth Hebe stepped down from her throne on Olympus and graced us with her presence, bearing nectar and ambrosia, the food and drink of the Gods. She partied the night away with her fellow Gods, Goddesses, and Royalty. The stage was resplendent with a silver backdrop, large columns decorated with grape leaves and lights, which surrounded Hebe's seven foot portrait. Beautiful turquoise tulle wrapped in white lights ran along the stage front.

Announcer Mary Alice Sierveld welcomed all to the festivities. She began by introducing the Krewe of Janus, members of the past Olympus King and Queens Club. Homage was paid to the four deceased Janus members, Jim and Lee Seglund, David Goodin, and Bill Eckert. Well wishes were sent to those absent due to illness, Al Grace and Pat Robertson. Our attention was drawn to the display at the back of the ballroom with pictures of past Royalty and guarded by Pegasus, the winged horse of Greek mythology. The members of Janus present were then brought forward--2009 Queen Hera II, Josette Grace, escorted by Committeeman David Motz, 2010 Queen Hera III Donna Cifranic escorted by her Apollo Kurt Braun, 2011 King and Queen Mark and Susan Duffy, 2012 King and Queen Bob and Diane Meith, 2013 King and Queen George and Shirley Baker, 2014 King and Queen Doug and Betty Maxwell, and 2017 King Don Perkins and his Queen, Janie Lamb.

The Master of Ceremonies Doug Maxwell was introduced. He asked all to rise as the Color Guard Bobby Emry, David Motz, and Paul Larsen brought in the colors. Carlene Daboval led us in singing the National Anthem, her beautiful voice mastering this song acapella. Patriotic music continued as the Emcee asked each member to stand as their service anthem was played.

Mr. Maxwell then introduced the King and Queen's special guests of honor, daughter of the King, Cindy Scurria and her husband Phil, son of the Queen, Jeff Goedde and his wife Elaine, son of the Queen, Scott Goedde and his wife Donna, friends of the Queen Jerri Guidroz, and Chuck and Jerry Ingraham. The Ingraham's were the first Apollo and Aphrodite for the Krewe, and were thanked for donating the beautiful busts of Apollo and Aphrodite which were displayed on the stage. Other guests included daughter of Apollo Tracy Ward and her husband Gary. PEO sisters of the Queen and Aphrodite were asked to stand and be recognized together.

Royalty from other Krewes were introduced--from the Krewe of Diamondhead, King and Queen Kevin and Sarah Schultz, and Royalty from Selene, King Roger Worak. Queen Roxanne Worak was absent due to illness, as were the King and Queen from the Boaters, Dick and Bobbie Yaniga Brown.

Doug then relayed the history of the Krewe, going back to March, 2007. Three Krewe members from that original founding group were present and recognized--Bob and Diane Meith and Beverly Bruce.

The nine officers and board of directors were introduced--President Betty Maxwell, VicePresident Josette Grace, Secretary Mary Alice Sierveld, Treasurer Sue Foster, and Board members George Baker and Don Perkins. Among the missing due to illness were Don Kraemer and Pat Robertson. Our ninth member Barbara Smith sadly passed away in December and is sorely missed...A brief history of the Greek Gods and Mount Olympus followed, including that of Apollo and Aphrodite. A beautiful backdrop portraying the Goddess Hebe was much admired.

The music of A Bourbon Street Parade heralded the introduction of our 2017 King Zeus X Don Perkins and Queen Hera X Janie Lamb, followed by Committeemen Kurt Braun and Paul Larsen. 2017 Aphrodite Mary Alice Sierveld entered the ballroom on the arm of King Zeus IV Mary Duffy, in the absence of Apollo Rick Sierveld, who had joined the ranks of those suffering from the Diamondhead flu. After paying homage to Royalty and guests, the 2017 Court were escorted to their tables.

Three trumpet blasts and the music If Ever I Cease to Love announced the triumphant arrival of King Zeus XI Hiram Skaggs and Queen Hera XI Nancy Winters! Nancy was gorgeous in a turquoise gown with a beaded bodice and beaded detail on the skirt. Our King, of course, was gorgeous too in white tails. Both wore sparkling crowns, and the Olympus traditional long trains of turquoise, gold, and white, with the Queen wearing the gorgeous Olympus collar.

Their Committeemen Bobby Emery and David Motz also acted as Train Bearers, and assisted them up to the stage.

Apollo Phil Ramseyer and Aphrodite Cherie Ramseyer then made their entrance to the music of Queen and Country, accompanied by their Committeemen Larry Sullivan and Zeljko Srsen. Aphrodite Cheri wore a lovely sequined silver and black jacketed gown. Apollo looked dashing in his black tails.

Thank Heaven for Little Girls introduced the entrance of the Debutante Miss Brooklynn Lee Ladner escorted by her father Mr. Shea Ladner, and followed by Committeemen Bobby Emry and David Motz. Brooklynn was beautiful in a white satin strapless gown with a beaded belt of rhinestones, and a sparkling Princess Tiara. The Emcee Doug informed us of Brooklynn's credentials, which were impressive. Brooklynn is a Senior at Our Lady Academy and is Class President, and was recently inducted to the National Arts Society. She plans to attend the University of Southern Mississippi to major in Graphic Design.

Committeemen Paul Larsen and Kurt Braun presented her with a gold medallion with her name and the Krewe logo as a gift from the Krewe while her father as Escort, mother Dee Dee Ladner, grandparents Gerald & Rhonda Ladner, and Sandra Day, along with best friends Meredith McRaney and Clare Haas proudly looked on.

President Betty Maxwell then presented the Royal Flags to the King and Queen, and last year's Queen Janie Lamb presented them with the Royal Goblets. King Hiram offered a toast to his Queen and all present, followed by another toast offered by last year's King Don Perkins to the new Royalty and Krewe.

The court descended the stage and led the Grand March to the back of the ballroom, to appear shortly minus their trains. They proceeded to the dance floor for their first Royal Dance to the timeless song, Wonderful Tonight. Apollo and Aphrodite joined them, followed by the Krewe of Janus, the Debutante and her father.

The bar reopened, dinner was served, and the music played on. The tables sparkled with small white pillars on mirrored bases and decorated with grape leaves and turquoise tulle with small white fairy lights. The delicious menu consisted of cream of mushroom soup, Chateau Briand set over a fried green tomato, asparagus, and a twice baked potato. Chef Eli marched in with the spotlight (provided by Walker Audio and Visual) and much applause to the Royal Table where he presented the dessert, a flaming Baked Alaska! The meal was fantastic, and a huge thank you goes out to our wonderful staff (wait, Chef's and kitchen, room set up, and bartenders) at the Diamondhead Country Club.

The Southern Voice band played excellent dance music, much to the joy of all--what a great group of guys.

After dessert, President Betty presented Queen Nancy with the traditional decorated Queen Umbrella, and King Hiram received the elaborately decorated walking stick. They proudly led us all in the Second Line dance, winding through the crowd and dancing to traditional music. What a wonderful evening!!

Tina is a 2 year old Catahoula Cur/Terrier mix, who came in as a stray with another dog. It is a mystery to us as to whether they belonged to the same family, or befriended each other while "on the road". Tina is a happy, energetic girl who adores people, and who is especially good with kids and other dogs. She is completely disinterested in kitties, so she could easily join a home with existing pets. She is sweet and eager to please, and just needs some love, attention and training, and a family to call her own. She thrived on the affection and attention shown to her by our young volunteers at our weekly adoption event at Pet Smart. Throughout the day, she improved steadily with leash training, particularly when on a harness. She keeps her kennel clean, so she may be even be house trained and/or crate trained. Tina would make a wonderful family dog, or a great running partner. Her perky ears and icy blue eyes complement her sweet personality. This baby is going to make someone a wonderful companion. Please call 466 4516 for more information on Tina, or come by the shelter, 7175 Texas Flat Rd, to meet this beautiful girl. You will fall in love with her. Visit our Facebook page, Hancock County Animal Shelter, MS, to see more pictures of Tina, and of the many other adoptable animals looking for their forever homes.

held on Friday, Nov. 29, 2017.

The newly elected flag officers are as follows: Zachary M. "Zak" Fanberg Commodore; Eugene R. Schmitt Vice Commodore; John P. Baxter Rear Commodore; Mrs. Margaret Gordon Taylor Secretary; and Commodore Camors C. "Chris" Roth Treasurer. The five BWYC flag officers are elected annually for a one year term in each position.

The twelve member BWYC Board of Governors include the following individuals: Missy Breath Altese, Paul E. Benoit, Walter G. "Gilly" Chamberlain Jr., Amy Kramer, Laurie Gex Fredrickson, George W. "Bill" Hager III, Michael D. "Mike" Hansen, Sanders B. Kane, George B. Riviere Jr., Commodore John R. "Randy" Santa Cruz, Commodore Christopher F "Chris" Trapani, and Roy A. Troendle Jr.

The BWYC General Manager is Ernest LaRocca Jr. CCM CCE. The BWYC Executive Chef is Corey Nolan.

This winter Zak Fanberg takes the helm as the 60th Commodore of the Bay Waveland Yacht Club. As a child Zak grew up competing in one of the largest summer youth sailing programs in the U.S. in his hometown of Wayzata, Minnesota where he sailed scows and lasers. Zak attended the College of Charleston in South Carolina where he graduated with a double major in Accounting and Business Administration. While an undergraduate Zak was a member of the nationally ranked sailing team and was recognized with an All American Honorable Mention.

Zak moved to the South in 2001 to live closer to his Charleston Sailing teammate and college sweetheart, Sarah Taylor, a two-time All American crew. Zak joined and has competed as a member of the Bay Waveland Yacht Club and Southern Yacht Club since that time. As a member of the BWYC he has won three U S Men's Sailing Championships and a Flying Scot Midwinter Championship. He is a past recipient of "Budweiser Sailor of the Year" and has numerous local and regional regatta credits to his name.

Zak is employed as a Vice President of Eagan Insurance Agency, one of the oldest locally-owned insurance agencies in New Orleans. Notably, Eagan Insurance is led by President Marc Eagan, an accomplished national sailor and member of one of the region's most prominent sailing families.

As incoming Commodore, Zak's focus is revitalizing the youth sailing program at BWYC to make the program more accessible to children of all ages and to increase the level of competition and skill. Additionally, Zak and the BWYC Board of Governors are already busy preparing for BWYC to host the 2018 Lipton Cup which will take place over Labor Day weekend of 2018. The event is significant in that it will be the first time for competitors from the Gulf Yachting Association to compete in this event in the new sailboat, the Viper 640.

Zak and Sarah, married in 2005, have three boys: Connor, aged ten; Anders aged seven; and Lars aged three. When he is not working or sailing, Zak enjoys watching his boys compete in cross country, baseball, soccer, and basketball. He is especially proud that Conner and Anders have begun sailing Optimists in the white and green fleet, respectively, and he is enjoying a change of pace as a regatta spectator.

What do your actions say

My wife can always tell if I like the taste of something by looking at my face. If I am given something I don't care for my face will surely frown and she will say, "I know you don't like this." In most cases she is correct.

Not only does she judge my reactions to taste by my facial expressions she can also read my expressions concerning situations involving people. It must be because we have been married over 40 years and she has studied me or been around me enough to know what I care for and don't care for.

I often wonder if people I do not know can judge my reactions as well. If they do, then I may be in a world of trouble.

Having to deal with the public was my primary responsibility when I was publisher of a newspaper. There were many instances when I came in contact with people that were angry, obnoxious, belligerent, and just down right mean. They came to me and was going to have their say and I was going to sit there and listen to them rant and rave. For the most part these people were few and far between because most people want to be treated the way they treat you.

I am amazed that the people wanting to rant and rave would generally settle down after they had their say. When all of the bickering was aside we usually had a civil conversation and worked out their problem, which usually wasn't as big a deal as they thought it was.

When you are confronted with people that are belligerent to you, how do you act? Do you retaliate or do you simply listen and let them complain? I have found that many times a soft, gentle, friendly voice will calm the situation. When someone came into my office and I knew beforehand they were upset, I offered them a cup of coffee, soda, or bottled water. I would ask them to sit and then begin our conversation. Doing this seemed to take the edge off of their uneasiness.

Please don't misunderstand, this doesn't work for everyone. Some people are there to take out their frustrations and they weren't leaving until they told me about them, which was okay, because it was my job to insure that all was correct and handled properly. Even though I listened to them I often wondered what my facial responses were. People can usually be judged by their mannerisms or how they move or sit in their chair.

These were always prayerful concerns for me. After the person would leave I would silently pray for them and me, hoping I made the right choice. Very few times did anyone ever leave the office upset.

How do your actions render your thoughts? Are you quick to jump on someone that has come at you with words you don't care for? Are you a person of tolerance and one that will listen before acting? I pray that you are because so many conflicts can be avoided if only one person will respond with gentle actions, kindness, and listen.

Prayer: Thank you Lord for the many years you gave me in newspaper management. I pray that I served you well and will continue serving you until the day you call me home. Amen.

PyeongChang 2018

People around the world are now following the excitement of the 2018 Winter Olympic Games in PyeongChang, South Korea.

At right is the flag of South Korea. Unscramble the words to find out what each symbol on the flag represents.

This symbol is known as yin and yang. Yin and yang mean literally the "dark side" and the "sunny side" of a hill. The symbol means that everything in the world has its opposite.

What time is it in PyeongChang?

There is a 17 hour time difference between PyeongChang and California. If it is 8:00 a.m. Monday in PyeongChang, it is 3:00 p.m. on Sunday in California.

Benjamin lives in San Francisco, California, which is in the Pacific Time Zone. His pen pal Tessa, lives in Atlanta, Georgia, which is in the Eastern Time Zone. Their pal Charlotte lives in Denver, Colorado, which is in the Mountain Time Zone. Charlotte's cousin Megan lives in New Orleans, Louisiana, which is in the Central Time Zone.

Complete the clocks below so they show what time it is in each city.

Put a Spin On It

Olympic figure skaters make it look easy to jump in the air and spin. But make no mistake, leaping into the air, twirling and landing gracefully takes hours of practice and a knowledge of science.

In order to twirl well, a skater needs velocity, or speed. A skater uses his or her feet to push off the ice to accelerate. Once the right velocity is reached the skater will jump and twirl. The more velocity a skater gets for the jump, the higher he or she will go.

To get more spins, a skater needs to twirl as fast as possible. To increase their twirling speed, a skater starts a twirl with arms out wide. Keeping the body straight and bringing the arms in close to the body causes a skater to twirl faster. This is a scientific principle called the conservation of angular momentum.

This week's word: MOMENTUM

The noun momentum means the force that a moving body has because of its weight and motion.

The extra hard push gave the bobsledders more momentum.

Try to use the word momentum in a sentence today when talking with your teacher, friends and family.

PRCC hosts Women's Health Symposium

SEA COAST ECHO
POPLARVILLE - Women laughed, shed a few tears and learned about themselves Saturday at the 12th annual Women's Health Symposium at Pearl River Community College.

The event attracted more than 400 women of all ages to hear motivational speakers and health care professionals as well as take advantage of free health screenings and a variety of information tables. "I enjoy it so much, the knowledge we get from it as women," said Patricia Armstrong of Picayune as she finished a bone density test provided by Hattiesburg Clinic.

The day began with a welcome by Dr. Adam Breerwood, PRCC president.

"There are so many different levels to being a beautiful woman, so many roles," he said. "You are special to so many."

Dorothy Roberts of Pass Christian and WWL anchor Sally-Ann Roberts of New Orleans discussed the importance of prayer and faith in coping with the ups and downs of life.

"So many people in life pray and prepare and then just stand there," Dorothy Roberts said. "To persevere you have to figure out how to get through that brick wall."

Sally-Ann Roberts recalled the fear she felt when their sister, GMA anchor Robin Roberts, was diagnosed with breast cancer and later asked her to donate bone marrow to combat myelodysplastic syndrome, a side effect of chemotherapy.

"I said to her, 'I was born for this,'," she said. "I truly believe we are here for a reason. We are here to do good works."

Grand sponsor of the symposium was the Lower Pearl River Valley Foundation.

"You don't know how much I enjoy this," said June Burge of Lumberton, who attended with her three daughters.

Keynote speaker Janie Walters of Madison brought a message entitled "Booster Shots for the Woman's Soul." She combined lessons on how to live life to the fullest with her trademark jokes and whoopin' and hollerin'.

"So much of life is the way we see it," she said. "The way we go about it is from our perspective."

The perspective sometimes erects barriers, she said.

"If only' doesn't change anything," Walters said. "It just keeps you beating your head against that brick wall."

Health information came from a panel of professionals, including Dr. Hunter Berry of Southern Bone and Joint, hip arthroscopy; Chancellor Deborah Gambrell of Hattiesburg, legalities of health care; Dr. William McArthur of Pearl River County Hospital and Nursing Home; Dr.

Claudia Karem of Hattiesburg Clinic, wellness and nutrition; and PRCC alumnus and former soccer player Jonathan Trahan, FNP-C, of Highland Community Hospital, thyroid issues.

The symposium provided women with the opportunity for health screenings along with pampering, including manicures and paraffin treatments by PRCC cosmetology students.

Pampering also included a necklace and an insulated casserole carrier emblazoned with the PRCC logo for each woman and the chance to win one of almost 200 door prizes.

Grand prize winners were Brenda Gipson, Lois

McClellan, Mary Salters, Freda Morris, and Mona Thomas, all of Lumberton; Joyce Williams and Sabrina Brown, both of Poplarville; Linda Smith of Picayune, Debra Hodges of Carriere and Joanna Alston of Gulfport.

Silver sponsors were Hancock Bank, Wal-Mart Supercenter in Picayune, Pearl River County Hospital and Nursing Home and Valley Foods. Bronze sponsors were BankPlus, First National Bank of Picayune, Hattiesburg Clinic, Highland Community Hospital and Southern Bone and Joint Specialists, P.A.
